THE SIGNIFIGANCE OF

THE 1968 "HUMAN RIGHTS" ELONGATED CENT

Because 1968 was declared by the United Nations to be "Human Rights Year", and because members of the Baha'i Faith believe that "Human Rights are God Given Rights", our first elongated greeting cent pays tribute to both the Baha'i Faith and the United Nations.

1968 marks the 20th anniversary of the adoption of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights by the United Nations. It marks, also, the 100th anniversary of the basics of Human Rights declared by the Prophet-Founder of the Baha'i Faith, Baha'u'llah.

As religions progressed, each prophet brought God's message to mankind, couched in the terms for his age. Each religion had its symbol.

The earliest symbol was the triangle.

Each succeeding religion has had woven within its teachings a successively higher number as its symbol.

Nine, being the highest, most perfect digit, the nine pointed star is symbolic of the Baha'i Faith.

Many have inquired about the signifigance of our 'elongated', and we are sure many more have wondered about it.

We hope we have given some enlightment about it, along with our best wishes to all for the coming years.

In Volume 3-No. 4, Page 5, excerpts from a letter from TEC member Richard Townsend was listed. Richard was quick to send in another letter stating that he was able to obtain the last copy of Dottie's book that Bebee's had in stock. Says that it educated him as he now knows what those mysterious Dow numbers are. A short time later he stopped in to see Len Babin and was able to buy some of the older elongateds and for the first time he knew what he was buying. He goes on to say that when he first wrote he only had perhaps 30 elongateds. And now his collection has grown to a grand total of 306. He claims that he's slightly on the busted side financially at the moment. He is also preparing Christmas gifts for the "youngsters" by assembling sets of elongateds, writing a story about each, placing them in snaplock cases, and personalizing them. This carries on a tradition of past years when he has done the same thing using Churchill crowns, Silver dollars, Wartime nickels and other coin sets. Thanks, Richard, for a good idea!

RUBY THRELKELD writes that there is no-one near her that collects elongateds so she is unable to share her hobby as she'd like although some are getting their feet warm and beginning to show some interest. She further writes:

"In October, 1968 I exhibited my collection of elongateds at the Galveston County Coin Club show in Texas City at the Holiday Inn Hotel. I won a first place trophy with my exhibit in the specialized category. The pieces I showed were of famous events and included were: Mother's Day, Father's Day, Happy Birthday, Merry Christmas, Thanksgiving, Spacemen, New York World's Fair, Statue of Liberty. The Lord's Prayer, U. S. Constitution, and the months of the year (Zodiac series ?) I included my copy of Dottie Dow's book on elongateds and one of her elongateds on a dime saying, "Good for one Handshake." Two of my prize pieces are my convention badges and my membership pieces with the OWL and my membership number 202.

My exhibit was viewed by more than a 1,000 persons and was well received. In all I had 40 pieces in my exhibit. Also heard several say "I did not know there were so many." I could have told them I was only a beginner.

In 1968 I also presented programs for the La Marque Coin Club and the Galveston Co. Coin Club on my elongated cent collection. Members in each club voiced the opinion they enjoyed my talks and my exhibit. Several members showed an interest in collecting.

"A NEW ROLLER VISITS A COIN SHOW"

by Don Sabo, TEC # 341

Early Sunday morning, May 18, 1969, I firmly secured my rolling machine to the roof of my little Mustang and packed my wife in the back seat and proceeded to the Morton Grove Coin Club's 5th Annual Show in Niles, Illinois about 3½ miles away from my abode.

This year was a special thing for me, being a new "roller", and also invited to roll at the show. Our club had made arrangements with Lloyd Wagaman to have a special elongated produced to be given away at the door to all that registered. Lloyd rolled 1,025 of these pieces on 1969 cents. The membership being elongated oriented people thought a set of 1¢ and 10¢ would be nice for members only so Lloyd rolled 150 sets on 1964 cents and 1964 dimes and serial numbered them. They sure came out nice, Lloyd!!!

Upon our arrival at the show I was greeted by our First Vice President, Dick McGee, and I inquired if he had brought the hat. (A tall silk hat.) Handing it over I put it on and slipped into my brilliant red vest. It could almost be said I felt like a "carny barker", or better yet one of our forebearers (rollers) at the "Century of Progress". People ask why the hat and vest and I replied "Why not, it's a way of gaining attention, isn't it???

We set up our machine on our special built platform and for about an hour or so we played around and adjusted it for the days' work ahead.

Shortly after finishing with the machine who appears buy Henry Blaha and soon a conversation is struck up (I mean we elongated a a conversation). We talked at great length on elongateds and I mentioned my next 3 dies. As usual Henry was looking for elongateds and he soon disappeared into the crowd of dealers and patrons.

During the course of the day our club had hourly door prizes of which 5 very lucky people each received a set of Lloyd Wagaman's Statehood pieces 1¢ through 50¢ housed in plastic cases. The club thanks you, Lloyd, for your generous donation. It was very well received by all.

At 5:30 p.m. we conducted our drawing for the 5-$20 gold coins of which two winners came from books that I had personally sold. Our show was truly a success both in attendance and financially.

It seems that the clock never stops because soon it was 6:00 p.m. and our doors were closed. But upon closing this signaled the start of plans for our Sixth Annual Show.

Weary and worn, I packed my wife in the back seat, put the machine on the roof and started for home. Leaving the show I felt the satisfaction of having revived for only a few hours the past happy experiences of other "rollers".

.....AN ELONGATED ROLLERS POTPOURRI.....

Manufacturers of elongated pennies have to adjust their machines from time to time, especially when changing from one roll to another..at this time errors occur, i.e.; rolled short, rolled long, half rolled, off-center and in general make up a rather unique and out-of-the-ordinary looking coin. I have a small accumulation of these odd-balls at this time which I have packaged up, 5 to a bag to sell for 1.00.

THESE MAKE A VERY INTERESTING ADDITION TO A COLLECTION OF ELONGATEDS.

* ELONGATED PENNY JEWELRY ****

by L. P. ENGRAVERS

For the past two years we have been manufacturing an attractive line of elongated jewelery. These Pennies are rolled with Lincoln beautifully shown on one side and the other side has been rolled with a dotted border. Within the dotted border we hand engrave your name, or if to be given as a gift, birthday present, remembrance, etc. we will engrave any name of your choice. As a collector of elongateds you know that a gift as unusual and unique as an elongated Penny piece of jewelry will be kept for years and won't wear out. I have found through talking with many people, sentimental attachment to elongateds given them by friends and relatives, increases over the years. This I found especially true when trying to obtain these for my personal collection. Even by twisting arms, I havn't had much luck in separating them from their owners.

So, if you want to give an unusual gift that will be identified with you and long be remembered, might I suggest a personalized elongated penny made into an attractive piece of jewelry??? As a suggestion for engraving on a gift item, something like "To Mary from John, 1969" might be appropriate. If for your own personal use "Your Name, 1969" would be nice.

 PERSONALIZED ENGRAVING MAY BE HAD ON THE FOLLOWING ****

1...Non-Tarnish Neckchain.....	$ 1.00	4...Clip-on Earrings.....	$ 1.00 pr
2...Keychain.....	1.00	5...Bracelet.....	1.00
3...Pierced Earrings.....	1.50 pr	6...Bow Pin.....	1.00

If you would like any of the above, such as the Keychain engraved with your full name, address and zip code, please add 25¢ to the above price. (Makes a fine I.D. if keys are lost!!)

The following Pennies showing Lincoln clearly cannot be engraved due to the finding attached to the back:

1.. Tie Bar..... $ 1.00
2.. Tie Loop..... 1.50
3.. Cuff Links..... 1.75 pr.
